Mission Hills Neighborhood Council (MHNC) is an officially recognized advisory council, and part of the Los Angeles citywide system of neighborhood councils.

The PURPOSE of the MHNC is to participate as an advisory body on issues of concern to the MHNC and in the governance of the City of Los Angeles and to bring together all stakeholders within the community.

Our MISSION is to serve all members as the coordinating and information clearinghouse for community issues. The issues are addressed by the MHNC Board of Governors (Board) with input from all interested stakeholders (tenants, homeowners, business owners, employees and people who are served by the community including non-profits, schools, churches, temples and other social service agencies). Among our goals are:

1. Promotion of public participation in city governance and decision-making processes.
2. Facilitation of delivery of city services to help solve local concerns.
3. Providing equal opportunity to all people within the community to participate in the government’s decision making processes.

YOUR COMMUNITY
Mission Hills is one of the oldest communities in the San Fernando Valley. The community, originally Denis Park, was named for the nearby Spanish Mission San Fernando Rey de España established on September 8, 1797 at the village of Achoicominga formerly settled by the Fernandeño Tataviam Band of Mission Indians. The community also includes the Andrés Pico Adobe, the second oldest residence still standing in Los Angeles. The San Fernando Mission Cemetery, located a short distance away, is one of the oldest active cemeteries within the San Fernando Valley.
